

BUILDING OUR FUTURE

UPDATES: Bunbury Building Project

In 2004, Nations Church, then known as South City Church, was planted with just 50 people, faithfully bumping in and out of the Melville Civic Centre each week. Those early years of setting up and packing down shaped who we are today. In that first year, the church gave into Building Our Future, trusting God with what was ahead without fully seeing it yet. Now, 22 years later, more than 5,000 people call Nations Church home across Australia, Cambodia, and Ireland. Four out of five WA campuses are now in permanent, generational facilities, all fully paid off as of 2024. We are grateful for God's faithfulness! For many years, our Bunbury Campus has gathered in a hired venue, navigating the challenges of bumping in and out each week and the limitations that come with it. Each Sunday, teams arrive early, set up with excellence, and create a space where people can walk in and encounter Jesus. Praise God that in 2026, we take a significant step forward towards establishing a permanent home.

Located at 8 Denning Road, East Bunbury, this 4,800 square metre property features a 2,000 square metre building that we will renovate into a space designed for church life, including an auditorium, foyer, next generation areas, offices, and all that's needed to gather, grow, and build community as a church family.

There has already been significant progress. Our contract with Seabreeze Construction has been finalised, and the Development Application has been lodged with council. Detailed design work is continuing to move forward. We have begun essential site works, including demolition of internal areas no longer required and pest treatment, totalling $35k. We have also committed $620k towards a full roof and gutter replacement starting in July, bringing the building up to current standards and preparing it for the years ahead.

A major breakthrough has been approval from Water Corporation to reroute the sewer line through the rear block. With the neighbouring property owner open to an easement or potential sale, this reduces the sewer run from 250 metres to 55 metres, saving more than $150k.

NATIONS CHURCH BUNBURY MOCK UP DESIGNS

Myaree

Myaree continues to serve as the hub of Nations Church, with people coming through every week to encounter Jesus and build community. As a high-traffic campus, there is an ongoing need to invest in practical improvements that enhance both functionality and experience across the facility. In recent months, several upgrades have been completed. These include a new rear electric sliding gate, a mezzanine level and rack shelving in the rear storeroom, and improved external access and storage for the Lower Primary room.

We have also installed approximately 300sqm of new carpet across the Next Gen foyer and Heroes areas. For 2026, around $50k has been set aside for further improvements. Recent updates include a refreshed tea and coffee station, new Welcome Lounge tables, and artificial grass in the Lower Primary and Heroes outdoor areas, giving kids more space to play and families more room to gather. Upcoming projects include retractable awnings and area dividers in the kids' areas, along with planning for a dedicated drinking and water bottle filling station in the main foyer.

Port Kennedy Campus Testimony Pacey Beacham

At 15, my parents gave me the choice to stop going to church, and I took it. Naturally, I drifted, lost my way, and began to spiral away from God.

But at 19, everything shifted. My mum and my grandma invited me to a Christmas Eve service at Nations Church Port Kennedy, the place I now call home. It was in that moment that I reconnected with God and with His Church. I realised this is exactly where I'm meant to be: back with the Father, surrounded by His people.

Honestly, if it wasn't for their invitation, I don't know where I'd be or what my future would look like. But now I do. I see a future centred on bringing the next generation to Christ whilst serving in the house on Friday nights and Sunday mornings, and believing for a better world as the people of my city come to know Him.

FOR THE GENERATIONS TO COME.

MAIN AUDITORIUM AT CAPACITY FOR EASTER SUNDAY

Belmont

Belmont is a growing campus, with increasing momentum and a clear need for a larger, long-term home. Each week, services are filled with people hungry for Jesus, and momentum continues to build across the campus community.

NATIONS CHURCH BELMONT AUDITORIUM AT CAPACITY

In the short term, we are focused on improving current facility, with approximately $60k allocated towards internal works that will maximise the usability of the existing space.

At the same time, we are actively searching and praying for the right long-term location. We are believing for a site between 6000 and 8000 square metres that can support future growth and provide a permanent home. While opportunities are currently limited in the area, we trust that God is preparing the right place at the right time.

Wangara

Wangara is a thriving campus that serves many families and continues to see strong engagement each week, particularly through its vibrant 10am service and well-utilised Next Gen spaces. Families continue to connect, and the space is being well utilised each week. A number of recent upgrades have been completed to improve functionality and create more flexible environments across the campus. These include the installation of a new LED screen, renovation of the main ladies' toilets, and the addition of a new front patio with aggregate concrete, representing an investment of approximately $65k.

Looking ahead, we are planning to redevelop an upstairs room into a dedicated prayer and meeting space, rebuild the production booth, and progressively remove the go-kart track and internal play equipment. This will allow us to create a more open, flexible, and practical Next Gen space that better serves families.

FIRST NATIONS CONFERENCE IN CORK, IRELAND

Cork

Our Cork campus will celebrate three years in September 2026. We are so grateful for what God has done in establishing a strong and committed team of leaders and volunteers. Recently, the campus has moved into a weekly rented Sunday facility at the Westgate Foundation in Ballincolig. This has created consistency for gatherings, but there is still a need for a midweek base. We are believing for a permanent office space with meeting rooms that can host Heartbeats, worship rehearsals, and discipleship environments throughout the week. Building Our Future helps make that vision possible as we continue to establish a lasting presence in Ireland.

Phnom Penh

In 2018, we secured a 10-year land lease and built what is now our Nations Phnom Penh campus. While we own the building, we do not own the land, putting us in a season of prayer and discernment around the future. We are beginning to explore conversations and negotiations with the landlord, believing for long-term security for the campus. Building Our Future enables us to take steps towards that outcome, so that what has been built can continue to serve generations to come. We are believing for a permanent, secure foundation for all that God wants to do in Phnom Penh.

SERVICES IN PHNOM PENH, CAMBODIA

Port Kennedy

Port Kennedy continues to experience healthy growth, recently launching a new 5pm service to create more room for people to attend. Alongside this growth, we are continuing to strengthen the current facility while preparing for the future. Planned upgrades include roof reworks with additional insulation in the café area, installation of reverse cycle air conditioning to replace evaporative systems, and fencing upgrades including a new gate along Helmsshore Way. With the addition of the 5pm service, we are also improving safety across the campus through upgraded carpark lighting and new fencing around the basketball area, creating a safer environment for children and families. The total planned investment for 2026 is approximately $130k, helping us steward what we have while making space for more.

BUILDING OUR FUTURE SUNDAY

14th June 2026

Building Our Future has always been about more than buildings; it's about the generations. Over the years, we've seen this again and again. Facilities may open doors, but it's lives being transformed, families restored, people finding hope in Jesus, and disciples being made that remind us why we continue to build.

As a church, we've been carried by the faith and generosity of those who have gone before us. Many gave sacrificially, believing in something they may never fully see. Today, we are living in the fruit of that faith. And now, it becomes our turn to build for the generations to come; those still to be born, and every generation who will walk through these doors and encounter God today.

On Sunday June 14, we will come together again to give into Building Our Future 2026 - for the Generations to Come.

So, whether you've been here for years or just joined recently, we invite you to take your place in this moment. Prayerfully consider what the Lord might be asking you to invest this year, because this isn't just about buildings, it's about our legacy and it's about ensuring that the lost are found, disciples are made and nations are reached for generations to come.

Myaree Campus Testimony

Kirsty Easton

Growing up, neither of us came from families that followed God, so we didn't understand what a personal relationship with Christ looked like. Because of that, we each faced our own struggles of anxiety, depression, addiction and a sense that there had to be more to life.

At 16, Johann encountered God at a youth event and was then invited to Nations Youth. At 15, I was invited by friends and gave my life to Christ, marking the start of a completely new journey for both of us.

Through Nations Church, we've encountered the Holy Spirit time and time again. We've been discipled, stretched, and given opportunities to step into leadership. Along the way, we've seen incredible breakthrough in our lives and also in our family.

Today, Johann oversees worship and production, and together we're raising our three children. We've experienced the impact of a generational church, and now carry that same vision, believing our children and their future children will grow up in the house of God and know Christ personally.
